TRAINING NEEDS ANALYSIS

SCREENING

Step 1 – Quick Screening (Yes/No)

Question	Response (Yes/ No)
1. Is there a performance gap compared to defined industry standards, or customer expectations?
2. Is the gap caused by lack of knowledge, skills, or attitudes (not equipment/policy/resource issues)?
3. Will addressing this gap through training improve business outcomes (productivity, sales, quality, compliance)?
4. Does the training align with DTI priorities / MSME development roadmap?
5. Is there demand from multiple MSMEs or sector-wide need (not just one individual's interest)?
Count of YES:	0
Preliminary Decision:	Likely NOT a training need – check alternatives

DECISION POINT
IF 3 OR MORE, YES THIS IS A NEED, PROCEED TO STEP 2 - SCORING

Scoring Guide

Performance Gap Severity	1=No gap; 3=Moderate; 5=Critical gap vs. standards/KPIs
Skill/Knowledge Deficiency	1=Not training-related; 3=Somewhat; 5=Entirely training-related
Business/Organizational Relevance	1=No impact; 3=Moderate; 5=Critical impact
Urgency	1=Not urgent; 3=Medium; 5=Immediate
Demand Across MSMEs	1=Individual; 3=Some sectors; 5=Nationwide/sector-wide

Decision Points

Total Score = sum of ratings (max 25)
20–25 = Critical Training Need
15–19 = Important Training Need
10–14 = Optional/Desirable but not urgent
Below 10 = Not a Training Need (address via other means)

II. Descriptive Analysis

During the period of _____, a total of 35 clients received a Client Satisfaction Feedback (CSF) related to the _____ service process. The process owner successfully collected 31 forms, demonstrating an 88.57% retrieval efficiency across both online and offline platforms. An evaluation of the overall process indicated a CSF rating of 91.70%, which is derived from the overall scoring of the Service Quality Dimension (SQD) of the process, signifying a very satisfactory level of client satisfaction.

In analyzing the demographics of these 31 clients, males represented the majority at 55%, while females accounted for 42%. Additionally, business-type clients constituted the largest portion of this service process, making up 58% of the total client base.
